THEY DIDN'T WEAR PIG TAILS

Nor Did They Dress Like Chinamen, But Actions Speak Loud.

A game played with the greatest smount of snap and ginger and pleasvesterday afternoon. It was advertised as being an exhibition commonly called baseball. Perhaps some one will recognize |it when the description is uniforms on. The colors of these uniforms varied according to the size and shape of the wearer. Nine of the men were out in the field while the other nine men were sitting down. And every now and then a man would get up and take a stick and try to hit a round thing, called a paseball. There was one man that wiggled himself about and threw a ball real hard. Occasionally it would jump around in the air and the man with the stick couldn't But this was very seldom the didn't have any uniform. He was the boss and he kept yelling, for balls and for strikes. They gave him several balls, but none of the players struck His name was Daniel Rogan, but him. His name was Daniel Nogan, but he is sometimes called Danny for short-ness. Once they said he used to wear a pretty uniform and catch the ball and throw the ball, too. That was when he was young, so the others said. When the game had gone about half way the boss said his eyes hurt him to look with them and he walked away. And then all of the players went and put clothes on and laughed and said it was a funny game. The multitude that wita funny game. The multitude that wit-nessed the exhibition rose up and shouted that it was great and the rulers gathered in some money and departed. A la Chinee.

But what's the use. The Brownies and the East End Blues played a game yesterday that will effect the game to-day. The Blues won, but the victory is not worth much when it comes from a team that played like the Brownies. Baseball is hurt by such exhibitions. There never was any excitements and there was very little good playing, mc-Evoy pitched for the Brownies and after he got ankry he just handed them over. Mike Hogan did the twirling for the Blues and did it well, with the exception of one inning, when he was a little wild.

He filled the bases with men by allowing them to walk in the first inning. But what's the use. The Brownles and he East End Blues played a game in the County.

Advantageous Sale of Farm Lands in the County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHESTERFIELD, VA., September 20.—
The suits of B. T. and Nannie T. Watkins vs. Southern Railway, for killing stock, were settled this morning by agreement. Cases are on docket for the remaining three flays of this week, and on Tuesday, the 26th, the damage suit of Besslo Lozon vs. Atlantic Coast Line R. R. Co., for $15,000 will be tried for the third time, unless the sickness of certain witnesses will necessitate a continuance. The court yesterday confirmed the sale by the executor of Mrs. Charlotte F. W. Haskin, of "Violet Bank" Farm, near Petersburg, to the Petersburg Realty Corporation for $10,000.

A deed recorded yesterday conveys to A. L. Adamson, trustee for E. E. Talley, 564 acres on the Powhatan border from Julian A. Salle and others at the price of $7,500, and simultaneously with the above, a deed from the above grantee to Lyon & Montague Company for the timbor alone on said 564 acres for $3,500, a case of quick sales and large profits.

A deed was recorded to-day from John Waitkins, of Petersburg, to T. J. King Company, of Richmond, conveying the old Dudley farm of $13 acres, a part of "Hafrowgate," to T. J. King Company, of Richmond, conveying the old Dudley farm of $13 acres, a part of "Hafrowgate," to T. J. FIRE IN ALEXANDRIA.

Fine Horses Burned-Daring Act of a Baggage Master. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ALEXANDRIA, VA., September 20.—A steam fire engine, four coal wagons and a lot of miscellaneous articles were burned and olght large draught horses were crewnated in the fire which destroyed the stables and warehouses of William A.
Smoot and Co., coal deadors, at the cormer of Princess and Union streets, last engint about midnight, with a total loss of $10,000, only a part of which was covcred by insurance. When the fire blazed out there were fourteen horses in the stalls, but six of them were saved. Each horse was valued at from $150 to $200.
The firenen fought hard to prevent the flames from spreading, and succeeded in protecting the extensive frame works of the Alexandria Fertilzer and Chemical accompany, which, being situated right across the street from the burning stables.
Were in imminent danger for some time.
Several freight cars on Union street caught fire, and one of them containing a field doil tank was saved with difficulty.
Mr. Charles Semmes, a baggage master
on the Southern Hallmad, voluntarily performed the dangerous feat of coupiling a shifting engine to the tank car, the woodwork of which was 5c wrapped in flames that an explosition was momentarily expected.

A portion of the loss from the burning of the warehouse was sustained by the Miller Company, which owned a quantity of Mr. William A. Smoot. The origin of the fire is unknown.

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., September 20 In a most unusual convention followed by City Party, a reform body, opposed to the methods of the Republican organiza tion, to-day nominated a ticket to be ticket is as follows: Sheriff, Wilson H. Brown; Coroner, J. M. ft. Jermon, City Commissioner, Rudolph Blankenburg and Edward A. Anderson; Judge Common Commissioner, Rudolph Blankenburg and Edward A. Anderson; Judge Common Pleas Court No. 1, Craig Biddle; Judge Orphans' Court, Morris Dallett.

Judges Biddle and Dallett are at present on the bench and are the regular Republican nominees for reelection. These offices not being considered partisan positions by the City Party the candidates were endersed by the convention. To-day's convention was the first in many years in this city to which the delegates went uninstructed. There was no "Blate" and each of the 91 delegates was at liberty to mame whom he chose for the offices. The result was a selection of candidates who fairly represent the reform element that has come into prominence since Mayor Weaver's break with the organization last May.

Never before in the bistory of this city had the concluding scenes of convention been enacted. On motion it was decided that the entire body of delegates and alternates should march to the city hall, three blocks away and acqualit Mayor Weaver of the action of the convention. Headed by a brass band the delegates marched to the Mayor's office and were met by him in the reception room adjoining his office.

The Mayor's appearance was the signal for an ovntion which continued fully five minutes. Mayor Weaver was lifted to a table in the center of the room and a delegate stood on either side of him with a large American fins. Addresses were made piedging the Mayor the support of the convention declared for compensation for municipal franchises, repeat the "Ripper" Bill, divorce of office-holders from political control and indorses the administration of Mayor Weaver.
